HAWKS

MEDIA INFORMATION

ANON BUSINESS

SAINT JOSEPH'S SPORTS NETWORK

For over 17 years, the Saint Joseph's Sports Network (SJSN) has produced and broadcast Hawk athletics to the Philadelphia region and beyond. Begun as an outgrowth of a four-game package of Saint Joseph's women's basketball broadcasts during the 1989-90 season, SJSN was founded in the fall of 1990. Since that time, SJSN's coverage of Hawk athletics has grown and currently includes live coverage of all Hawk men's and women's basketball games, Phil Martelli's HawkTalk radio program and the nationally-renowned HawkTalk television show.

Saint Joseph's games will be carried in 2008-09 on either 50,000-watt WNTP 990 AM or WFIL 560 AM, stations that have a long history of broadcasting college basketball in Philadelphia.

All of SJU's men's games can also be heard through audio streaming on the internet at the Hawks' official athletics site, www.sjuhawks.com free of charge through Stretch Internet. Video streaming of selected games is also available on www.sjuhawks.com as part of the Hawks All-Access package.

Tom McCarthy

PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Tom McCarthy enters his sixth year handling play-by-play duties for the Saint Joseph's radio broadcasts. During the rest of the year, he is the play-by-play announcer for the Philadelphia Phillies television broadcasts. This year, he also called baseball games for the Fox Network.

McCarthy returned to the Phillies in 2008 after calling the radio broadcasts for the New York Mets on WFAN in 2007. Prior to his stint with the Mets, he served as one of the broadcasters and host of the pre- and post-game shows on the Philadelphia Phillies Radio Network for five years. McCarthy has extensive experience in broadcasting college athletics. He is currently one of the play-by-play announcers for CBS College Sports Network, handling football and basketball, and over the years, has handled similar duties for Rutgers football and Princeton football and men's basketball.

In 1999, McCarthy originated his own daily, drive-time radio program on ESPN Radio (1680 AM) in Princeton and, one year later, began hosting shows nationally on the ESPN Radio Network.

A 1990 graduate of The College of New Jersey, McCarthy began his career as a sportswriter for The Trenton Times. After five years there, McCarthy was named the director of media relations and radio play-by-play broadcaster for the AA Trenton Thunder baseball club. He went on to serve as the team's announcer for seven years and assumed the team's assistant general manager duties for his final three years.

A New Jersey native, McCarthy resides in Allentown, N.J., with his wife Meg and their four children – Patrick, Tommy, Maggie and Kerri.

Joe Lunardi

COLOR ANALYST

Returning for his 19th season on the SJSN is Joe Lunardi, assistant vice president for marketing communications at Saint Joseph's. In this position he oversees institutional marketing and branding, program advertising, web content, and other integrated communications initiatives.

A 1982 graduate of Saint Joseph's, Lunardi returned to his alma mater in 1987 as director of media relations. He has also served as director of external relations, director of university communications, and assistant vice president for university communications. He was named to his current post in August, 2006.

Away from the University, Lunardi is the nationally-known "bracketologist" for ESPN, ESPN Radio, and ESPN.com. His ESPN.com bracketology site generates over 10 million hits per season. He correctly forecast all 65 NCAA Tournament teams last season and has covered over 750 Hawk games in his career.

In 1995 and 2004, Lunardi received the William J. Bennett Award for dedication and loyalty to the SJU men's basketball program. Lunardi and his wife, Pam, a 1984 SJU graduate, reside in Drexel Hill, Pa., with their daughters, Emily and Elizabeth.

Play-by-play announcer Tom McCarthy (left) and analyst Joe Lunardi are in their sixth season together as Saint Joseph's radio broadcast team.

Phil Martelli's HawkTalk radio show is aired weekly from January through March on WNTP 990 AM. This year, the show will again be broadcast live on Monday evenings from The Boulevard Restaurant & Catering in Havertown, Pa. During the hour-long show, Martelli and co-host Joe Lunardi field questions from callers and the on-location audience.

PHIL MARTELLI'S HAWKTALK

It's hard to believe, but Phil Martelli's HawkTalk has been on the air for 12 years, and will air its 100th show in 2008-09. Martelli has provided a different twist on the traditional coach's show, hosting a "Tonight Show" format. Some obligatory game highlights are included, but the emphasis is on wacky jokes and lighthearted interviews. In 2001, The Sporting News called HawkTalk the nation's best coach's show.

Martelli hosts the unscripted half-hour show, and in addition to trading barbs with co-host Joe Lunardi, he interviews guests ranging from Saint Joseph's students to family members to high-ranking politicians. Pennsylvania Governor Ed Rendell has been among the high-profile guests on "HawkTalk" in the past few years, along with Philadelphia Eagles player Jon Runyan, author and Washington Post columnist John Feinstein, SJU coaching legend Jack Ramsay, former Philadelphia Phillies pitcher Mitch Williams and SJU alum Vince Papale, whose story was told in the 2006 box-office hit Invincible.

For the past five years, HawkTalk has been taped primarily on campus with a live studio audience of SJU students, faculty and staff.

The show airs weekly from January to March in the Philadelphia region on Comcast SportsNet. For the last four years, a whole new audience has experienced HawkTalk, as fans nationwide have been treated to the broadcast of Martelli's show on CBS College Sports Network.

HawkTalk is produced by CCI Communications of West Chester, Pa., and is directed by Ken Selinger and with assistance from Ken Adelberger, Steve Selinger, Mark Knox, and Stacey Martin. Matt Martucci serves as the producer.

Basketball is often the secondary topic on Phil Martelli's HawkTalk when the SJU coach and co-host Joe Lunardi get together on the most unique coach's show in the country.

Martelli brought out the tuxedos, balloons and cake for the 10th anniversary show in January, 2006. The episode featured a parade of guests from the previous 10 years.

HAWKS ON TV

The Hawks will again have a presence on television in 2008-09. Nine of Saint Joseph's games will be nationally televised, beginning with the opening game of the EA Sports Maui Invitational against Texas on ESPN2.

Saint Joseph's affiliation with the Atlantic 10 Conference plays an integral role in the exposure received by the Hawks and the other A-10 schools. The Atlantic 10 and ESPN will once again team up in 2008-09 as the network will air more than 30 regular-season games featuring Atlantic 10 teams, as well as the 2009 A-10 Championship from Atlantic City. The Atlantic 10 is in the midst of a multi-year deal which guarantees its presence on ESPN outlets.

CBS College Sports Network (formerly CSTV Networks, Inc.) entered into a long-term, comprehensive agreement with the Atlantic 10 Conference, including all 21 of the Conference's sports, prior to the start of the 2006-07 season.

The agreement consists of all conference-related media and marketing rights including television, national over-the-air and satellite radio, video-on-demand, internet, broadband, wireless, and exclusive corporate sponsorship and licensing rights to all Atlantic 10 sports during the regular season and postseason championships, including the men's and women's basketball championships. It also covers the rights for all regular season, post-season, and Conference championships.

CBS College Sports Network is the nation's leading digital sports media company and was the first company dedicated to the coverage of college sports. Through an array of platforms, CBS College Sports Network connects more college sports fans to their favorite schools and sports in more ways than any other media company. In addition to its national television network, which broadcasts 35 men's and women's college sports, CBS College Sports also has a network of nearly 250 official collegiate athletic websites, including Saint Joseph's and all of the Atlantic 10's member schools.

CBS College Sports Network recently launched more than 100 broadband channels dedicated to college sports. These are all available through CSTVXXL.com or the individual school sites. The entire CBS College Sports Network XXL package will include more than 10,000 live events this year. Saint Joseph's is among the 100-plus schools with All-Access broadband channels which will offer audio and video of live games, archived games, coaches shows, press conferences, ticketing and e-commerce.

Why S-a-i-n-t Joseph's University?

The corporate title "S-a-i-n-t" Joseph's University, which has been in place since Saint Joseph's was granted university status by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1979, is now the public title of the institution for all aspects of its operations. Previously, the abbreviation "St." Joseph's University was permitted in a number of alumni and athletic contexts.

The vast majority of academic and government publications have referred to Saint Joseph's University since at least 1986, as have most campus references with the exception of athletics. However, university-wide "image campaign" has revealed the need to clarify this policy both internally and externally.

According to the most recent edition of the Higher Education Directory, there are at least nine recognized "St. Joseph's" among the nation's colleges and universities. Only one of them – Saint Joseph's University, Philadelphia – is a university-level, Master's I, NCAA Division I institution. A complete spelling of Saint Joseph's University in all contexts will help eliminate any confusion among higher education and other public constituencies.

Style information for print, electronic and digital media is available. It includes accepted abbreviations of the corporate name (e.g., "SJU" or "St. Joe's" in headlines or certain informal references) as well as prohibited usages (e.g., partial abbreviations such as "St. Joseph's" or "Saint Joe's").
